

Students all over this area are getting to know, understand and experience the Chinese culture up close and personal.

In this week's View from the Hill, Amy Bingham takes us inside Chinese class where some very enthusiastic teachers are making it possible.

Less than three years ago, WKU became the first Kentucky university to host a Confucius Institute. Today more than thirty Chinese teachers are in classrooms here in the commonwealth and more than half recently received their Kentucky teacher certification.

{audio}<http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/1105china.mp3>{/audio}