

March is the time of year we prepare for severe weather season, and tomorrow a very important test will be conducted to make sure we're ready, according to Emergency Management Coordinator for Barren County, Tony Richey:

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0305richey1.mp3{/audio}

Another way we can be prepared is to own weather alert radios. Richey says Barren County has arranged for citizens to purchase one at a very low price:

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0305richey2.mp3{/audio}

TORNADO DRILL TOMORROW; SEVERE WEATHER AWARENESS IS KEY TO SAFETY

Tuesday, 05 March 2013 05:33

After the test tomorrow there will be an Emergency Support meeting at the Emergency Operations Center in the Extension service office on West Main Street. Joe Sullivan, from the National Weather Service will be there to answer questions and talk about severe weather. That meeting will begin at 11 am.