

RUNDOWN OF ACTIVITIES FOR THE FIRST EVER AGFEST

Thursday, 20 June 2013 06:29

The first ever AG Fest is coming up this Saturday at Barren County High School.

One of the organizers of the event is Caralyne Wright, who is the member services director for Farmers RECC. She tells us how AG Fest all got started:

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0620wright1.mp3{/audio}

And she says there are lots of activities that everyone will enjoy:

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0620wright2.mp3{/audio}

RUNDOWN OF ACTIVITIES FOR THE FIRST EVER AGFEST

Thursday, 20 June 2013 06:29

One important note about Saturday is that the Bounty of the Barrens will only be operating at Barren County High School. There will be no one set up downtown this Saturday, as the market will still go on, just at the Agfest at BCHS Gymnasium.

The title sponsor for the event is ALLTECH. Wright says they will have a special display as well Saturday

{audio}http://wcluradio.com/newscuts/0620wright3.mp3{/audio}

Make your plans now to attend this coming Saturday, the first ever AG fest.