

GLASGOW POLICE MAKE TWO SUNDAY ARRESTS

Wednesday, 23 April 2014 06:17

A Glasgow Man soliciting lawn care services is now facing multiple charges after Glasgow Police observed the man driving on the curb and on the wrong side of the road ON Easter Sunday. After the department received complaints, police apprehended Jeffrey E. Mckluskey, age 49 of Dripping Springs Road. After routine sobriety tests and search, Mckluskey was arrested and charged with RECKLES DRIVING, OPERATING A MOTOR VEHICLE UNDER THE INFLUENCE, POSESSION OF A CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE NOT IN ORIGINAL CONTAINER, AND POSESSION OF A CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE 3RD DEGREE.

Also on Sunday, Glasgow Police received complaints from T.J. Samson staff that 28 year old Aaron Ashley Nifong came in through ambulance, then jumped into the vehicle of a random stranger, and had a disagreement with a hospital employee. T.J. Samson Security was able to gain control of Nifong, who was exhibiting wild and hyper behavior. Her pupils were observed to be very large with little to no rebound. On her person, a pill organizer was found with three different types of pills all identified to be prescription and non-scheduled by poison control. Nifong was arrested and charged with PUBLIC INTOXICATION, POSESSION OF A LEGEND DRUG, PRESCRIPTION NOT IN ORIGINAL CONTAINER, AND DISORDERLY CONDUCT 2ND DEGREE.