

Bobbie Dixine Hurt - Coomer, 77, of Edmonton, formerly of Bridgeview, Illinois lost her battle with cancer on Wednesday, Sept. 18, 2013 at her home, surrounded by her loving family.

Bobbie was born in Edmonton, KY on February 10, 1936 to the late Birch and Lela Shive Hurt. She is survived by two daughters, Teresa Coomer and her companion, Kevin Slifka, of Bridgeview, Illinois and Gail Bradley and husband David, and grandchildren, Dylan, Luke, Justus, and Leah Bradley, all of Temecula, California, two sisters, Betty Lou Robertson and husband Donald, and Alice Sue Gibson and husband Kenneth, both of Glasgow, and one brother, Lois D. Hurt and wife Bettie Jean of Fairmount, Indiana, and several nieces and nephews.

Because of her desire to help others, she made the decision long ago to donate her body to research when that time came. This was her final gift.

There will be a "Celebration of Life Memorial Service" at 1:00 PM Saturday, September 21, at Revenna Separate Baptist Church 1400 Reece-Hurt Rd. Edmonton, KY. We welcome all friends, family, neighbors, and other acquaintances to please join us in remembering and celebrating Bobbie's life. A meal at the church will follow the service.
