Plaza Overflows to Trigg. So successful has been Bruce Aspley's War Bond premiere showing of "Desert Storm" that the picture will be shown next Thursday night at both the Plaza and the Trigg Theatres -- the same program at both houses starting at 8:15.

Mrs. Billie Dougherty has leased a room over McElroy's 5 & 10 store, where she will open a tailoring shop on Saturday, February 19. Mrs. Dougherty is well known as an expert in this field and will specialize in the tailoring of ladies' coats, dresses and suits, and alterations of both ladies' and men's clothing.

PTA Seeks Silver for Dining Room. The Glasgow Parents-Teachers Association held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the high school auditorium. Pupils of Mrs. Howell Pedigo had charge of the devotional, and the pupils of Mrs. D.M. Burks presented a delightful musical program, one feature of which was an original musical skit, written by Mrs. Burks, on Betsy Ross. During the meeting, special notice was called to the fact that in the dining room project (which is being sponsored by the PTA) it is proving impossible to secure enough silverware with which to equip the dining room. It is suggested that anyone who has any idle silverware would be doing a worthy act if they would donate even a few pieces to the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. T.H. Snoddy of the Bon Ayr section celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on January 30. All of their children were present except for their son, W.H. Snoddy of Indianapolis.

Attention is invited to the announcement concerning closing of Lawrence (Dusty) Miller's dry cleaning establishment due to his early departure to Naval service. The good wishes of his many friends will go with him in his response to his Country's call.

From Summer Shade. Joe Sims has bought the school bus from R.C. Hodges and he took over the route on Monday. Mr. Hodges has driven the bus for about eight years and has given fine service, but, owing to his health, he thought it best to give up the work.

Pvt. John Robert Miller Writes from New Guinea. "Since I have been here, I can sympathize with a housewife. I have shined shoes, made beds, swept floors, and, if I could cook, I think I would make some man a good wife. When I get back to Glasgow, the only way they can get me out is to blast me out. If they don't soon send me back, I am going to start swimming home."

Sgt. Alvin C. York, who went through World War I without a scratch, fell down the basement steps at his home in Pall Mall, Tennessee this week, seriously injuring one of his knees. He is able to walk some with the aid of a cane.

Marshall, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Gray, is under treatment for a badly injured eye, which was sustained while playing with some small friends. The little boys were playing with a bow and arrow when an arrow struck him in the eye. Following an operation Monday, physicians are hopeful of saving his sight although the eye is not expected to be fully restored.

Rogers Dickinson, 43, Assistant Cashier of the New Farmers National Bank, leaves Monday for Nashville where he will report for assignment with the Navy. Dickinson's action makes him the fifth of his family to be serving in Uncle Sam's armed forces, being preceded by his brothers, County Attorney (now Sergeant) Brents Dickinson of the Air Corps; Captains John Dickinson and Lt. Lewis Dickinson in the Army Medical Corps; and William Dickinson, in the U.S. Navy. His sister-in-law, Julia Schneider, is with the WACs.

Shortage of Houses Becoming Local Problem. A shortage of all types of homes and apartments is becoming a problem that is causing civic leaders considerable embarrassment. Unless some relief turns up shortly, there stands some chance of losing the location of a construction center for a gas pipeline to be constructed through this vicinity. If you know of an available home or apartment, notify the Chamber of Commerce or the newspapers. This is imperative.
